Dear Mr. Aldrich:

I enjoyed our talk together the other day. Unfortunately I have not had an opportunity in the last few days prior to my brother's departure for Florida, to get a firm decision with regard to the suggestion in your letter of March 24, 1959.

I am, however, sending your letter down to him there, and I feel sure that you will get an early response, as I know he will be touched by the interest of the St. George Association in offering him the award for 1959.

Faithfully yours,

(Signed) ALLEN W. DULLES

Office of the Deputy Commissioner
In Charge of Youth Program

March 24, 1959

Hon. Allen W. Dulles
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Dulles:

I enclose a letter to the Secretary of State, setting forth the matters we discussed at our meeting yesterday. There is also enclosed a copy for your files. You will notice that I have omitted from the text of this letter any suggestion that you might be selected by your brother to represent him in receiving the Award. This is so obviously a personal matter that I only dare to suggest it in this way.

Two other thoughts which I omitted from his letter might be pertinent: First, this breakfast is not a fund raising affair. Its purpose is simply to serve as a joint expression of the faith of the Protestant members of this department, and to honor one outstanding citizen. Second, we are prepared to make any arrangements, including accommodations at the Waldorf and transportation, for the Secretary or his representative.

I would also like to express my thanks for the time you gave me out of what must have been a most crowded schedule. Your cordial hospitality was matched by that of [redacted] both of whom gave me new insights into several of the problems which we face here in New York.

Sincerely,

/s/

Alexander Aldrich
Deputy Commissioner
